H. Williams Van 6 — Flyer & Outreach Leads

2026-10-13 · Prepared for Tara · H. Williams Mobile Pet Spa

How Tara should use this list

Each town below has its own page: vets first (best referral partners), then condo and apartment buildings (where the dogs live), then doggy daycares with no grooming and other leads. Work one town per outing and tick off stops as you go. The list targets affluent dog owners: luxury buildings, single-family neighborhoods, private clubs and upscale shops. Budget and affordable-housing spots were taken out.

- Vets: Ask the front desk if you can leave flyers or a small card stack at checkout, and ask who handles referrals. A box of dog treats goes a long way.
- Condos (owned): Go through the management office or board; ask about posting in the mailroom or adding a blurb to the resident newsletter. Never slide flyers under doors without permission.
- Rentals: Ask the leasing office. Many run resident events and "pet amenity" programs and love a local service to recommend to residents.
- Daycares without grooming: Pitch a partnership: we groom in the van right in their lot on a set day, and their clients go home clean.
- What to bring: Flyers, business cards, a branded treat jar. Ask every new customer how they heard about us so we can see which stops are paying off.

White Plains, NY

Downtown White Plains is the densest target on this list. Several new luxury rentals have dog runs or pet-wash rooms, which tells us many dog owners live there. Start with 25 North Lex, AVE Hamilton Green, 51 South, One Martine and Norden Lofts. Most vets sit along Tarrytown Rd, so one stretch covers five of them.

Rye, NY

Rye is light on leads: one vet, no daycare and mostly co-ops. The best use of a morning is the downtown Purchase Street walk (Pet Pantry, Pawz On Top, The Highlands), then Playland Beach. Dogs are allowed there in the off-season, which runs now through late April. Nearby Rye Brook entries are labeled.

Vets

✓	Name	Address	Phone	Notes

Skip Rye Colony (1 & 2 Peck Ave, no dogs) and Purchase Street Tenants Corp (216 Purchase St, listed as no pets).

Doggy daycares without grooming

Rye has no stand-alone daycare. The one partner lead is The D.O.G. (Joanne Willard): she runs farm boarding and day stays in Putnam Valley with pick-up, teaches classes at Rye Rec, and doesn't groom. Dogtopia (Port Chester) and The Dog Stop (Mamaroneck) both groom, so treat them as competitors.

Grooming competitors in town: Woof Gang Bakery & Grooming (62 Purchase St). Le Beastro (1005 Boston Post Rd) may have closed.

Port Chester, NY

The best stops are the new waterfront and downtown rentals, starting with The Abendroth by the Mill St bridge to Greenwich. The three in-village vets are the strongest referral partners. Dogtopia is the main competitor for baths and nail trims. Port Chester is less affluent than the other towns, so stick to the luxury waterfront rentals and nearby Rye Brook and skip the older co-ops.

Doggy daycares without grooming

The search found no daycare in Port Chester without grooming. Dogtopia of Port Chester (142 Midland Ave, 914-908-4710) offers spa baths and nail trims, so treat it as a competitor. Other local groomers: Wellingtons Dog Grooming (135 Willett Ave) and Pet Spa Center (Boston Post Rd, (914) 939-6060).

Stamford, CT

Stamford is the biggest prize. The Harbor Point towers, the dog park and Harbor Pets daycare all sit within a few blocks, so one visit covers many leads. Several downtown towers have their own pet spa or grooming room, so pitch those on a regular groomer day rather than straight flyering. Harbor Point pet policies conflict across listings. Call BLT leasing at 203-961-5000 before visiting.

Darien, CT

Darien has no doggy daycare at all, so "we come to you" is a real selling point here. The densest stops are the two new Noroton Heights rentals (about 190 units, both pet-friendly), then the downtown townhouse condos off Post Rd and the senior communities.

Notes & things to double-check

This list comes from web research done on 10/13/2026, using official sites, vet directories, rental listing sites and local news. Some sites blocked access, so a few facts come from directory listings only. Click the name in any row to see its source. Do a quick Google Maps check before each outing.

- [ ] Call before visiting these possibly closed spots: VCA Bond (White Plains), Bond Vet (Rye Brook), and the PetSmart and Petco/Vetco in Port Chester
- [ ] Call BLT leasing (203-961-5000) to get the current pet policies at the Harbor Point towers in Stamford
- [ ] Ask about the pet policy at co-ops and condos marked "unconfirmed" before leaving flyers
